Motions

David made a motion that the last sentence in the Constitution Article XVII (Vacancies) be deleted. Joi Ragland 2nd that motion majority ruled. Motion passed. The sentence will read as follows:

ARTICLE XVII Vacancies

Should the Office of President become vacant, the position will be opened to Vice Presidents. If more than one (1) Vice President is interested, then there shall be a vote by the Administrative Council. If none of the Vice Presidents are interested in the Office of President, the position will be opened to all members of the Administrative Council and its sub-committees. If more than one (1) member is interested there shall be a vote by the Administrative Council to fill the position. If no members meeting the qualifications are interested, the position will be opened to all members of the Student Body meeting the qualifications for the position. The persons interested will submit a petition just as though they were entering a general election. Vacancies occurring in the offices of the Administrative Council will be filled by nominations and a vote held by the Executive Committee.
