SOUTHWEST TENNESSEE COMMUNITY COLLEGE, founded July 1, 2000, is a comprehensive, multicultural, public, open-access college. It is one of the largest community colleges in the Tennessee Board of Regents system.

Southwest awards Associate of Arts and Associate of Science degrees for transfer to four-year colleges and universities, Associate of Applied Science degrees for immediate career entry, and Technical Certificates to prepare for entry-level positions. Areas of study include liberal studies, fine arts and humanities, natural and physical sciences, social and behavioral sciences, mathematics, allied health sciences, nursing, business studies, information technologies, engineering and related technologies, criminal justice, and education. The College is ever vigilant to incorporate new technologies and disciplines into the curriculum to serve new educational needs as they arise and are recognized by the community.

It is the College's mission to anticipate and respond to the educational needs of students, employers and communities in Shelby and Fayette counties and the surrounding Mid-South region; and to provide an effective teaching and learning environment designed to raise educational levels, enhance economic development and enrich personal lives.

Southwest Tennessee Community College is accredited by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools Commission on Colleges (1866 Southern Lane, Decatur, Georgia, 30033-4097, Telephone number (404) 679-4501) to award the Associate of Applied Science, Associate of Arts, Associate of Science, and Associate of Science in Teaching degrees, as well as certificates.

The Commencement Speaker

Ann Wooten Langston is the Senior Director of Strategic Partnerships and Opportunities at Church Health, whose purpose is to improve health and well-being so that people can experience the full richness of life. Ann attended Southern Methodist University where she earned her Bachelor of Art and Juris Doctorate degrees. She practiced law for 22 years, first in Atlanta, Georgia, then Memphis, Tennessee, before joining Church Health in 1999.

Ann Wooten Langston

Founded by Scott Morris, MD, M.Div. in 1987, Church Health is the largest privately-funded, faith-based medical organization of its type in the United States, caring for more than 70,000 working, uninsured people and their families since its inception. Ann provided volunteer legal counsel to Church Health from 1987 to 1999 and served on the board of trustees from 1994 to 1999. Since joining the Church Health team in 1999, she has served as Director, Chief Strategic Officer and is now the Senior Director of Strategic Partnerships and Opportunities.

Church Health is a critical part of the social safety net and connective tissue that makes Memphis a caring community. Throughout her career, Ann has worked to develop partnerships that support all facets of Church Health's Model for Healthy Living: Medical, Nutrition, Friends & Family, Movement, Work, Faith Life, and Emotional. Ann was a driving force that made Church Health's 2017 move to Crosstown Concourse possible, and she continues to develop and nurture myriad community partnerships that extend Church Health's ability to engage patients and members—body, mind and spirit – in the pursuit of healthy living.

Through her work with ECHO (Empowering Church Health Outreach), Ann advises teams throughout the United States that are starting or expanding non-profit health clinics in their communities.

Ann currently serves on the boards of Community Redevelopment Agency and the Foundation for Southwest Tennessee Community College. She is a lifelong member of the United Methodist Church and serves on the board of St. John's United Methodist Church, where she is Lay Leader. She has been honored with numerous awards and accolades throughout her career.

Ann and her husband, Dudley, have two grown children, Frank and Katy.

The Student Speakers

“Ms. Southwest” is the moniker fellow students bestowed upon Sabrina Washington thanks to her infectious school pride and dedicated service as a student leader. Washington served as Student Government Association vice president, as editor-in-chief of the Southwest Source student newspaper, as a student ambassador and as a Tennessee Intercollegiate State Legislature delegate.

Despite her busy schedule, Washington earned a grade point average of 3.68 during her tenure at Southwest and graduates with honors today with an Associate of Arts degree in Psychology. She also is an active member of Phi Theta Kappa, the international honor society for two-year colleges, where she serves on the board of the Upsilon Delta Chapter.

Sabrina N. Washington

Washington arrived at Southwest upon graduating from Gateway Christian Schools at the age of 16. She earns her associate degree from Southwest just two short, but fulfilling years later. When she is not studying or hard at work convincing everyone who listens that Southwest is “Your Best Choice”, Washington can be found writing fiction, bowling, bargain shopping or simply hanging out with the family dogs—Teddy and Mack.

Her degree today is just the beginning. Washington plans to continue her studies at Southwest this summer to earn her Associate of Science degree in Social Work. This fall, she will enter Middle Tennessee State University where she was awarded the Honors Fellow Transfer Scholarship, the highest scholarship a transfer student can receive. Washington plans to study broadcast journalism and dreams of launching a career in television and radio.

The Student Speakers

Jensel Garcia is a native of Guatemala who graduates with honors today with two Associate of Applied Science degrees in Computer Engineering Technology and Electrical Engineering Technology, respectively. He previously completed the Industrial Computer Fundamentals technical certificate at Southwest and also receives the Electrical/Electronic Fundamentals technical certificate today.

Garcia is the first in his family to attend college in the United States. A non-traditional student who holds a Bachelor of Arts degree in Spanish from the University of North Carolina at Asheville, he chose Southwest Tennessee Community College to earn the necessary credentials to achieve his dream of becoming an electrical engineer.

His career at Southwest has been stellar. Garcia was named Southwest's 2018 Featured Engineering Technology Student and was recognized as the Outstanding Electrical Engineering Technology Student during the 2018 Honors Convocation. He also made the Dean's list each semester as a full time student and recently was inducted into Phi Theta Kappa, an international honor society for students at two-year colleges.

A recipient of multiple job offers, Garcia recently accepted a position as an electrical engineer with Sharp Manufacturing Company of America. He dreams of one day launching his very own electrical engineering firm.

The Seal of Southwest Tennessee Community College

The College Seal, much like a heraldic coat of arms, is symbolic of the College’s aspirations and mission. Southwest Tennessee Community College has incorporated both ancient and new elements and symbols into a seal that is 21st Century in design, to signify the College’s origin in this millennium and its commitment to the future.

The Southwest Seal is a circle, centered by a shield, which is quartered to hold four “charges,” denoting the general programs the College offers. The Torch, a symbol of general education, also stands for guidance, knowledge and enlightenment – the flame that lights the darkness of ignorance. The Gears represent the wide range of technological programs. The Atom, the most modern ideogram, symbolizes the natural sciences. The Caduceus, the most ancient symbol, illustrates the medical arts.

The Open Book, in the very center of the Seal, symbolizes knowledge and the wisdom of the universe. The Laurel Leaves, on which the shield rests, proclaim achievement, excellence and triumph. Finally, the Motto, KNOWLEDGE SERVICE OPPORTUNITY, sums up the Mission of the College.

Colors of the Seal:

The College’s official colors are red (signifying life, warmth) and blue (signifying calm, reflection, intellect).

Use of the Seal:

The Seal is used officially to authenticate documents, such as diplomas, transcripts, and in jewelry, such as college rings and nursing pins. It is engraved on the College Mace, which is carried in solemn procession by the faculty senate president, symbolic protector of the president of the College.

Presidential Medallion

Bearing the seal of Southwest Tennessee Community College, the Medallion is symbolic of the College and represents the Office of the President. Worn by the President only during formal academic events, it signifies authority, trust, leadership, accomplishment and continuity of tradition. The sterling silver medallion, coin-struck with the College Seal, is supported by a double strand of silver links with eight sculpted silver shields. Each shield will eventually be engraved with the name and dates of tenure of a president of the College. The Medallion is a gift to the College from the Southwest Foundation.

The College Mace

The mace as an ancient symbol of authority, usually a spiked club, carried in ceremony before a king or other ruler by an officer charged with his protection. The College Mace is an ornamental “Lamp of Knowledge,” representing the body of learning imparted by the faculty to enlighten students, and also symbolizing authority as embodied in the president of the College. The silver lamp is engraved with the College Seal and is mounted on a staff of silver and carved wood. The president of the Faculty Senate carries the mace before the College president during Commencement and other ceremonial occasions as a symbol of the protector of knowledge.

Academic Regalia

Academic dress originated at universities in the Middle Ages when a warm gown and hood were necessary in unheated buildings. For centuries these gowns distinguished students from their fellow citizens; sometimes this distinction in dress symbolized unfortunate controversies between “town and gown.” The European habit of using academic robes came to this country in the eighteenth century with the founding of what is now Columbia University. In 1895, American universities and colleges standardized their styles of academic costumes, and this system, with occasional modifications, still is in force. Today, the various colors, trimmings and patterns of gown, hood and cap are all traditional and symbolize both the degree and field of learning.

GOWNS: American academic gowns are usually of black material, and their pattern varies with the degree held. The bachelor’s gowns are relatively simple in design with a closed front and long, pointed, open sleeves. Master’s gowns have an open front with long, closed sleeves, the arms extending through a slit at the elbow, giving the appearance of short sleeves. Doctoral gowns are the most elaborate, with velvet panels down the open front and three velvet bars on the bell-shaped sleeves.

HOODS: The hoods, differing in length for the three degrees (bachelor’s, master’s and doctor’s), are lined with the colors of the institution that granted the degree. Hoods are also trimmed with the color that heralds the major field of learning.

CAPS: A square mortarboard is the approved headgear. The tassel, fastened to the middle point of the top of the cap, is black or the color appropriate to the subject; it may be gold if the holder has a doctor’s degree. Southwest Tennessee Community College has adopted the practice of having candidates for the associate degree wear the tassels on the right front side before degrees are conferred and shift them to the left at the moment the degrees are awarded to them. In the last few years, many universities have returned to a distinctive gown design, using colors associated with the college or university. Some have replaced the mortarboard with a soft velvet tam with a gold tassel.

Hood and tassel colors represent categories of learning. All hoods are edged with the colors listed below. The same colors may be used for the facing and sleeve bars of doctoral gowns and tassels on bachelor’s and master’s caps.
